Haiti fundraiser Charlie Simpson rides his bike round No10 Downing Street

January 28, 2010, the Mirror

Charlie Simpson rode through the corridors of power during a private tour of Downing Street yesterday.

The seven-year-old, who has raised more than £210,000 for the quake hit Haiti, pedaled around No10 as he was shown the historic rooms by Gordon Brown's wife, Sarah.

The schoolboy said, 'Now I need to decide on my next plan to make the world a better place.'

Mrs Brown said, 'Charlie reminds us what just one person can do.'

The PM, who was due to attend but had to go to Northern Ireland, said the lad was "inspirational".

Charlie, of Fulham in West London, was joined on the tour by proud parents Dan and Leonora, and sister Alice, six, after his five-mile sponsored cycle in aid of Unicef's disaster appeal.
