Walt Disney is probably one of the most famous people all over the world. He was a popular animator and film producer. Besides, he created some of the most successful characters, films and theme parks of the 20th century.

Walter Elias Disney was born in Chicago, USA on December 5, 1901. He had three older brothers and a younger sister. His family very often moved from state to state and from city to city. For some time they even lived on a farm in the state of Missouri. Walt enjoyed living on the farm greatly. There he got interested in drawing and actually started to draw a lot.

When Walt entered high school in Chicago he drew for the school newspaper. During World War I he wanted to join the army. However, he was too young for that. Nevertheless, Walt Disney left school and worked as an ambulance driver during the war.

When Disney returned from the war, he opened his own animation company. Unfortunately, it was not successful.

In 1923 Walt Disney moved to Hollywood. There he started another animation company and in 1925 he married Lillian Bounds. They had two daughters, Diane and Sharon.

At this time Disney created a new character. It was based on a pet mouse which he once had. Disney's wife named him Mickey. Disney put Mickey in his first film with sound, 'Steamboat Willie'. And very soon Mickey Mouse became the world's most popular cartoon character!

Following Mickey's success, Disney created other characters such as Donald Duck, Goofy, and Pluto. Dozens more cartoons followed, including Snow White, Bambi, Peter Pan, Alice in Wonderland, Cinderella, Mary Poppins and many more.

But Walt Disney Disneyland did not stop at this. He had a new idea: to create a theme park with entertainment based on his cartoons. As a result, Disneyland opened it in 1955. The park was a great success and it still is one of the most popular parks in the world. Disney also planned to build an even larger park called Walt Disney World.
