The longest journey in space

On the 20th of August and the 5th of September in 1977, two spacecrafts took off from Florida, the USA. Voyager 1 and Voyager 2 started a long and difficult journey to the end of the Solar System. They flew past new places in our Solar System and sent photos of the planets and their moons to NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration).

Voyager 1's journey

Voyager 1 arrived at Jupiter, the largest planet in the Solar System. At a distance of 349,000 kilometres from Earth, scientists received the best photographs of the planet from Voyager 1 and they discovered a lot about the planet's weather from them. They studied the clouds, lightning and strong winds of three hundred kilometres per hour. Jupiter also has a moon with volcanoes. Voyager 1's next stop was Saturn. Saturn is smaller than Jupiter and it's most famous for its rings. From Voyager 1's photographs, scientists discovered that the rings are mostly water and ice.

Voyager 2's journey

Voyager 2 also visited Jupiter and Saturn after Voyager 1, but then it continued to Uranus. Uranus is the coldest planet in the Solar System. There is a lot of ice on the surface. During its journey round Uranus, there were mechanical problems with Voyager 2's camera. Eventually, scientists fixed it and Voyager 2 travelled to Neptune. Neptune is the furthest planet from the Sun (4.5 billion kilometres) and it was the last planet on Voyager 2's journey.

English Town

The building company Hong Kong Housing is building a new suburb in Shanghai, a city with a population of more than 15 million people. But this suburb is not like other parts of Shanghai. It is a little piece of England. The name of the new area is English Town. The manager of Hong Kong Housing, Shi Guangsheng, says many people in this area of China want to buy an English house and imagine living in a real English town.

"This town is like Bristol or Chester. There is an English square and there are pigeons to feed like in Trafalgar Square, London. There are four English-style pubs and you can buy English beer to drink. There is a canal and you can row a boat there like in Cambridge."

Are there any cricket fields? "No, there aren't any places to play cricket because nobody in Shanghai can play this game. But there is a football stadium like those in England. And the thing we are very proud of is our shopping street. There are several shops where you can buy traditional English food like fish and chips or Christmas pudding."

The rich Shanghai businessmen can do some gardening too. In every house in English Town, there is an English lawn and there are long gardens with ponds and tall hedges.

But there is one problem. The houses in this part of town cost a minimum of $400,000!
